

Silence

By: Grace Jamison

Quiet and silence are two very different things.
When it is truly silent my inner ear rings.
It can be a place of joy or fear.
It could be a moment when a killer is near...
Silence is easily disrupted and broken.
For some it is suffocating, almost chokin'.
Some find beauty in its stillness,
An opinion is based on a person's willingness.
So next time silence gives you its presence,
Take it all in and show it some reverence.
